Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the "reinforcing ply" of claim 2 and the "tensile force transmitting elements... comprising web spokes extending transversely across the compliant band" as set forth in claim 8 must be shown or the features canceled from the claims. No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 2, and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by De Longcamp.

With respect to claim 2, note Example 2 and figures 8-10 described in columns 11 and 12.

4. Claims 1, 6, and 8-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cozatt.

With respect to claim 8, the spokes of Cozatt are considered to be “web spokes” inasmuch as the term is defined in the claims.

With respect to claims 11-13, the spokes are oriented at opposite oblique angles and form a zig-zag or repeating X-pattern as shown in figures 1 and 5.

5. Claims 1 and 8-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Palinkas et al (US Patent 4832098).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

8. Claims 3, 4, 5, and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over De Longcamp.

The shear modulus of the reinforcing cord and the elastic modulus of the compliant band are considered to be obvious mechanical expedients because those of ordinary skill in the art could readily determine suitable properties for the tread and the reinforcing cords based on the intended use of the wheel.

With respect to claims 4 and 5, the exact location of the reinforcing ply is considered to be a design expedient based on the desired properties of the wheel and therefore would have been obvious to those of ordinary skill in the art.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The references show other compliant wheels.
